SENIORS SAY

The Concord staff asked all the seniors of the class of '86 to write a sentence exploring how they feel about the past four years of St. Stephens. Many different opinions were expressed, and although these quotes can never express the complete overall feeling of the class of '86, they can still give some insight about how fifteen individuals feel about their years at St. Stephens, and how others might possibly feel also. All you freshmen, take heed! There may be some wisdom in these words, but if not, then these quotes do express the memories of the Class of 1986.

Much pain, but a lot of gain — Steve Lloyd

I may have moved in halfway through, but I feel at home at SSHS — Nick Kentopp

High school means finding great friends and wonderful memories — Mari Rockett

It was full of laughter and fun, tears and fears, but now it's almost gone — Rhonda Allison

I've loved every minute of it, but I can't wait to graduate — Stephanie Burket

Baloney — Crystal Withers

I came, I saw, I got out alive. We're outta here! — Daryl Page

It could have been much worse — Lisa Van Dohlen

It ranged from the ridiculous to the sublime — Angie Terry

These four years at St. Stephens have been all around very wonderful. Wouldn't exchange them for anything — Julie Tallman

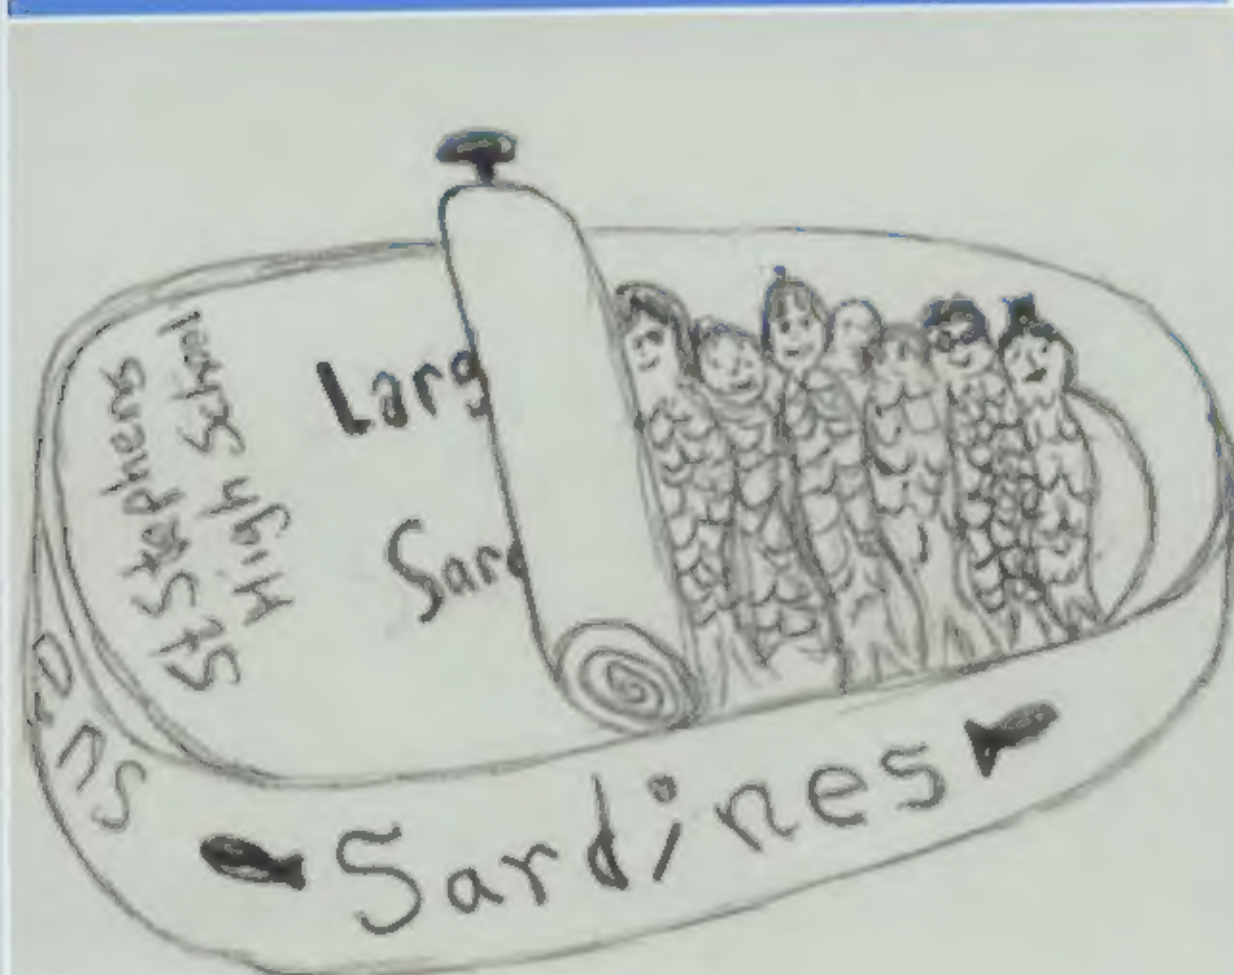

Hectic, unorganized, in short — total anarchy. — Andrew Turman

My high school years seemed to go by faster than I thought. St. Stephens has filled a stage of my life and taught me many things well — Mary Beckom

The years at St. Stephens have been memorable, and will always be in my thoughts — Chad Young

... images of loving parents, caring teachers, and true good friends, awash in a sea of life which was high school — Gordon Wetmore

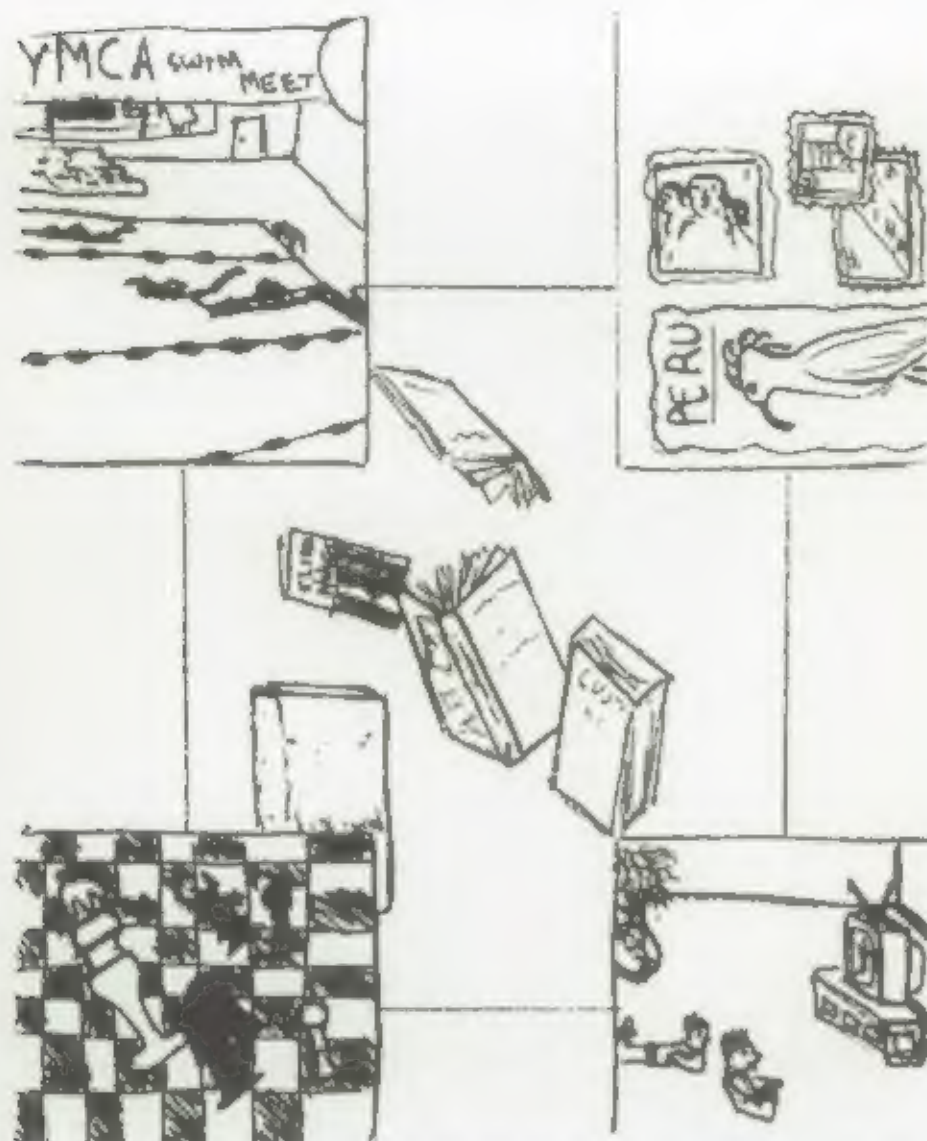

TIGHT FIT

You're walking down the halls of St. Stephens High School at a fast rate. The bell rings. You rush into the hall, hoping to beat the crowd so you can get to your next class on time. It seems as if the crowd has definitely grown this year. St. Stephens had 1063 students enrolled at the end of last year. Now, after five months of school, St. Stephens has 1130 students enrolled. Even if drop-outs and students moving away from the St. Stephens district are taken into account, the increase is still sizable. Packed classes and halls seem to be the new norm at SSHS. With one mobile unit adding new space, SS is trying to keep pace with the enlarged enrollment. Additional constructed space may be hard to get as officials debate the potential increase or decrease of SSHS student population in future years. Until new classrooms are built, good luck trying to get to your locker and your classes.

DID YOU KNOW ... St. Stephens was built for a capacity of approximately one thousand students?

HOBBIES

Having a hobby is a productive way of using your spare time. There are different hobbies to suit each particular person.

Playing the piano, collecting stamps or dolls, playing sports, doing needlework, or working on cars are various types of hobbies.

Whatever your hobby may be, developing it is well worth your time and effort.

TEACHER OF THE YEAR

Ten-Minute Interview

Mrs. Libby Sigmon, guidance counselor, was voted teacher of the year by the faculty of St. Stephens High.

Q: How did you feel when you found out that you were chosen teacher of the year?

A: I was surprised and very pleased to know that my colleagues thought of me in this way. I didn't know that guidance counselors were eligible to receive the award.

Q: What things do you like about St. Stephens?

A: I think that the students are very motivated and mature. I enjoy working with them and the faculty also.

Q: How did you get interested in working in the guidance office?

A: Well, my husband was a counselor at SSHA at one time and he got me interested in doing guidance work.

Q: What other school have you worked in?

A: I worked at Bunker Hill for ten years and at St. Stephens Elementary for six months. I used to be a business teacher before I started working as a guidance counselor.

Q: What things do you enjoy doing outside of school?

A: Some of my hobbies are doing cross-stitch and raising orchids. I also do various forms of artwork for people.

THE COMET COMETH

Once again after 75 years Halley's Comet returned. In 1910 when Halley's Comet first appeared people considered this bright ball of fire an omen. People feared the comet signified the coming of such disasters as plagues and wars. Today we no longer fear such astrological events. For astronomers the comet is the ideal opportunity to study what is believed to be the raw material of the solar system, preserved in the deep freeze of outer space for billions of years.

Halley's Comet did not streak across the heavens like a meteor, as many people believed. The comet became visible in September through powerful telescopes and by the spring of 1986 it could be seen with the naked eye.

The return of Halley's Comet in 1985 was not as bright as in 1910 because as it travels through the universe it loses many particles over the years.

FACES IN THE LIMELIGHT

FLIPPING OVER FADS

Many things seem to come and go. Ladies hats, for instance, were very popular in the 60's, but how many women do you see wearing hats today? Fads do come and go. Today we seem so chic, but tomorrow what we wear or do or say may be entirely out of style.

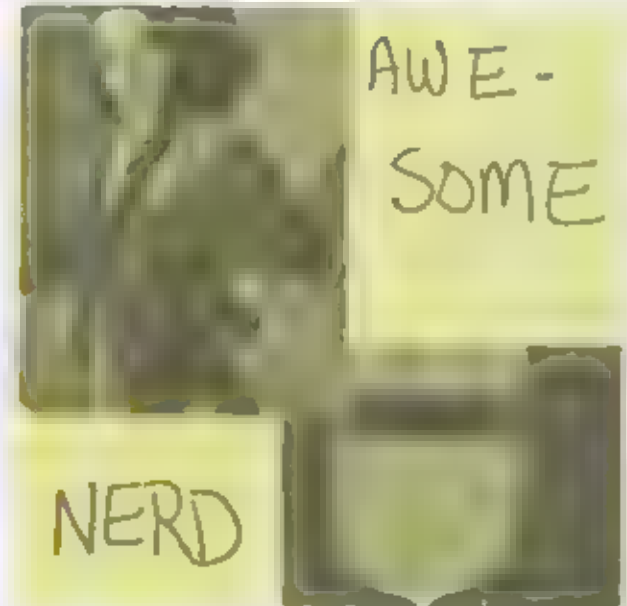

One are affected greatly by fads is clothes. Strrup pants, big loose paisley shirts, miniskirts, big jewelry, and rubber bracelets are in for girls this season. Swatches are very popular too, with many styles and colors. They seem to capture the eye of almost everyone. Boys like suspender pants, six-eyelet shoes, baggy sweaters, blousy shirts, and blue jeans jackets. Coca-Cola clothes are coming in.

Besides clothes, another fad is talk. Not many people today think that they are hip. They would prefer to be cool. Bogous, nerd, narley, and awesome are only a few of the new words that have been heard during the past year.

Hair style is another thing that can be in style and out very quickly. Different seems to be the fad for hair. Rat ta's, short hair for girls, and long hair for boys is in. Mousse is an important factor in hair style, or some kind of gel or cream to take its place.

Fads are fun but flippant. Have fun trying to be cool.

GOVIES

This past summer St. Stephens was fortunate to be able to send three student to North Carolina Governors School at St. Andrews College in Lounburg, N.C. The students were Scott Parrish, Kelly Sigmon, and Toni Throneburg. All three enjoyed and learned a lot at the governors school. Not only did they learn new things in academics, but also they learned many new things about themselves. All found that governors school was a great challenge, a great place to make new friends, and to have new experiences. For example, Scott now knows how to wash clothes at least a little better. And Toni probably will not be climbing out any windows anytime soon. Over all the three students seemed to believe the governors school was a summer well spent, and as Kelly said, "... It really makes you change and become a better person."

CARS

They sit in the parking lot from 8:00 until 3:00 patiently waiting for their students. Some stay longer than others, and each one has its own distinct personality. Occupying an appropriately painted space in the lot, we identify these things as our cars. They come in every imaginable color from red, green, yellow, orange, and rust to black, maroon, and striped. And what is the most popular car out in the parking lot? A quick survey reveals the winner is the Mustang. Trucks, sports cars, bugs, and bombs — St. Stephens has a few of each.

SSHSS STUDENT

WEEK-ENDS

St. Stephens students describe themselves as wild, crazy, and intellectual. There is a variety of students making up the student body. Known for good sportsmanship, caring and concern, involvement, and high spirits, they could be described as crazy, smart, idealistic, and hard-working. From the punks to the bookworms, St. Stephens seems to have its share of each and many in between. Individuality is a key word when you're an SSHS student. It doesn't matter if you are a punk, an athlete, a bookworm, or none of the above, you should be proud of yourself and of your school.

As seasons change, activities do too. People don't usually go swimming in December, but on summer weekends, many people enjoy outdoor activities such as a walk in the park or along a beach, or playing an outdoor game or sport. The ponds and lakes beckon for swimming and skiing. Then along comes winter and indoors everyone goes. Now's the time for football, basketball, movies, and going to the mall to play video games or just to walk around and see who is there. With each new season come new activities for the weekends. Enjoy yours!

WE'VE GOT THE LOOK

If it's fashion you're looking for, then look no further than St. Stephens High. With the growth of Hickory and surrounding areas, you no longer have to buy the latest copy of Vogue or GQ to catch a glimpse of the latest fashions. These styles are displayed and modeled every day by students in class, the halls, assemblies, and the lunchroom.

Fashion this year brought back many popular items from the 1960's. Paisley print proved to be the most successful comeback of the year. Styles ranging from double-breasted suits to Polo sweaters were also popular. Of course, many of these will be 'out' next year, but there is one bright side — bell-bottoms aren't in style again.

IN THE NEWS

On November 9, 1985 the United States received its first flight instructor from the People's Republic of China. The flight instructor was a Chinese pilot who had been flying for the U.S. military for several years. He was the first of a group of Chinese pilots who were being trained by the U.S. military to fly for the Chinese Air Force. The flight instructor was a Chinese pilot who had been flying for the U.S. military for several years. He was the first of a group of Chinese pilots who were being trained by the U.S. military to fly for the Chinese Air Force.

One of the most important news events of the year was the signing of the Intermediate-Range Nuclear Forces Treaty by President Reagan and Soviet Premier Gorbachev. The treaty was signed in August 1985 and it was a major step towards reducing the nuclear arms race between the United States and the Soviet Union.

Gorbachev held negotiations aimed at peace. Several topics discussed were arms control, star wars, culture, trade and air safety. Formal decisions were made that will resume U.S.-Soviet Union flights by Pan Am and Aeroflot, establish a U.S. consulate in Kiev, and set dates for summits in the next two years.

"Let's get it together — Buckle Up" became one of many slogans to hit television and magazine advertisements after the N.C. legislature passed a mandatory seat belt law in October 1985. The law states that all passengers riding in the front seat of a motor vehicle must be buckled in.

Hello Indians. We all spend a big portion of our life at school, but does anyone know why? Do you know what St. Stephens is to you? We get up every morning, spend countless hours at school getting an education then go home at 3:00 with the expectation of repeating the habit and returning the next day. Why? I would like for you to stop and think about it. Sometimes it seems a bit unreal when you have to read that 'dumb book' or learn that ridiculously long formula that you will never use. But, are we being fair?

As a senior, my eyes have slowly been opened to the realization that my time in high school is quickly coming to an end and I am just now realizing what it means. I'm scared — I'm growing up. I will soon be leaving the coveted halls of St. Stephens and entering the real world.

The most important thing to remember is that with all the aspects of high school, during good times and bad, we are continuously growing and becoming what God intends us to be. I hope you appreciate your high school days full of friends and good times, and not take them for granted.

Do you recognize this face? It's Margaret Thatcher? No! It's Queen Elizabeth? No! Here's a hint. She was a teacher at St. Stephens last year. Still haven't guessed? It's Ms. Bertie Herman. Ms. Herman had taught at St. Stephens for years. She was honored as teacher of the year at the annual awards ceremony in May, 1985.

As the doors of St. Stephens opened for the 1985-86 school year, a sea of 1200 smiling faces poured into the hallways and classrooms. There was only one 'sight' problem — where to put everyone. Teachers and students outnumbered available space two to one.

One alternative to the problem was having teachers to move from room to room during planning periods. The second was that the county kindly installed a mobile unit during the summer after voting against addition to the current facility. The new unit housed Mr. Reese's Psychology and Economics classes.

A Night Of Beauty

Hundreds of people waited anxiously in the Lenoir Rhine auditorium for the beginning of the Miss St. Stephens pageant. The lights dimmed, the curtains were raised, and one could see the stage filled with 73 beautiful girls. With great enthusiasm all the girls danced together to the music of the pageant's theme, "I'm So Excited". Each performed to her utmost in hopes of receiving the title of Miss St. Stephens before the night was through.

Following the dance, each girl was escorted back onto the stage, presented with a flower, and given the opportunity to introduce herself. Then the girls were called back out onto the stage in groups by the emcee, Steve Beasley.

After the last group presented themselves on stage, the judges chose the top twenty finalists. Now the theme of the pageant could be seen on the faces of these twenty as each one seemed to say, "I'm so excited."

The audience was supplied with some excellent entertainment while the judges made their decisions on the top ten finalists. Several dance routines by Hazel Berry's dancers, some musical performances including a duet by Mark White and Tiffany Lee, skits and a comedian, Shannon Green, helped the time fly.

The judges made their decisions and the top ten were announced. After the remaining girls presented themselves and showed off their beautiful attire, it was time for a final decision. The girls waited anxiously for the outcome. The Emcee received an envelope, and as he opened it, one could feel and see the tension in the audience and on the girls' faces. In a few moments they would know the outcome.

Miss Congeniality was Angie Evans, second runner-up was Paige Evans, first runner up was Donna Lafone and the new Miss St. Stephens was Maida Sigmon.

Following the crowning of the new Miss St. Stephens by the former Miss St. Stephens, Audrey Peevey, Maida Sigmon was presented with roses and several congratulatory hugs from friends. With one last walk down the runway, the new Miss St. Stephens was definitely excited at a dream come true.

Ladies' Night To Shine

"May I cut in, Kyle?" Mr. Berry congratulates his son.

A rush fell over the gym as the twelve finalists were named. And then came the big moment—who would get to hold the title of Mr. St. Stephens?

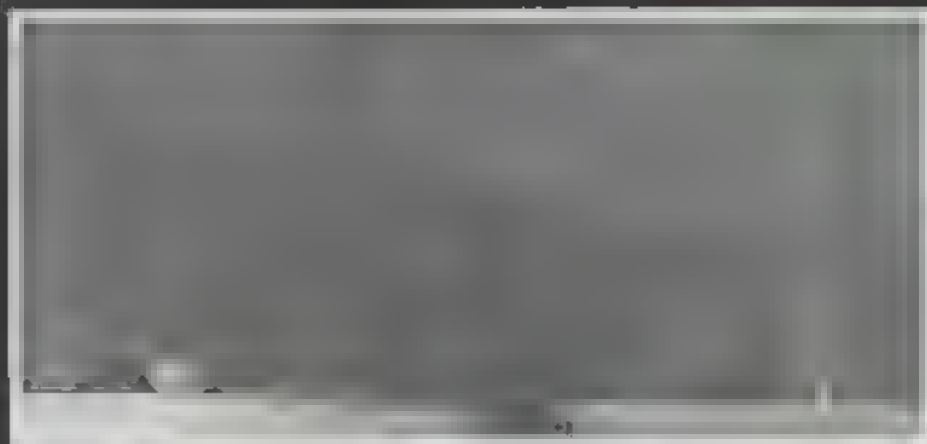

On Wednesday, April 10, the Mr. St. Stephens Pageant was held in the school gym. The pageant was sponsored by the Juniors and had as its theme "Baby I'm a Star."

The crowd cheered as the 25 curvaceous contestants came on stage, first in their street clothes and later returning transformed into ravishing beauties.

Robbie Redden, also known as Scarlett, was named Mr. Congeniality. Then, Kyle Berry and Tim Aaron were chosen as second and first runners-up, respectively. Finally, after the big moment arrived, freshman Andrew Peterson was crowned Mr. St. Stephens for 1985-86.

The evening ended with Andrew taking his walk down the runway.

The crowd enjoys watching these ravishing beauties.

An Egyptian Paradise

A warm wind blew through the desert sands. Overhead, the moon shone like a pearl set in black velvet. One could almost see Cleopatra walking toward him adorned for her audience. An Egyptian Paradise? Yes. In Egypt? No, in the St. Stephens gymnasium.

Changing an ordinary gymnasium into an "Egyptian Paradise" wasn't a very easy thing to do. It took many long hours of hard work until the gymnasium's transformation was complete. The exquisite decorations set the mood as soon as the students walked in the door. Of course, the Egyptian dress of the waiters and waitresses helped add even more sparkle to the setting.

Five girls spent part of the evening in suspense. One of them would be crowned prom queen, and all of them knew it. In the end, of the five, Tiffany Latone, Shawna Harris, Margaret Frank, Beth Frank, and Dana Reese, Tiffany Latone emerged as the winner. From there, everyone relaxed and enjoyed the music, which was provided by the band, Dazzle.

Winter Fest Excitement

On Friday, January 24, St. Stephens held its annual Christmas assembly in the gymnasium ... But wait. You ask, "Christmas Assembly in January?" The answer, a simple yes and no. The assembly, originally scheduled for December 21, was postponed when inclement weather forced many students, including assembly participants, to be absent. The assembly was then rescheduled and re-named Winter Fest.

Acts included the Chorus singing two Aieluta selections, a jazz dance by Crystal Kirby, a cheerleader performance, and the Indianettes dancing. Mark White and Tiffany Lookadoo entertained with "It Was Almost Like a Song," Charlie Houser performed bicycle stunts, and Hope Marshall gave her baton routine. Dana Hathcock sang "My Father's Eyes" and Heather Hines sang "Memories."

Charlie Houser displays great skill by balancing on the handle bars of his bicycle.

One of the most exciting times of the school year came in the fall. When football season was underway and everyone had adjusted to their new school routine, everyone knew that Homecoming was not far away.

Although Homecoming only lasted one short week, much planning had to be made beforehand. There were themes to be decided, mascots to be chosen, and girls to be voted on for Homecoming Court.

For the 1985 Homecoming Court, the Senior Class selected Andrea Peavey, Paige Evans, Donna Lafene, and Heather Livingston. The Juniors voted on Susan Kilian and Olga Wright to represent them. Melanie Queen and Lana Walsh were chosen by the sophomores, and the freshmen picked Julia Treutman and Jennifer Angelica.

Homecoming brought many joyful and memorable events. For one certain girl, that happiness would come when she heard her name announced as Homecoming Queen, 1985.

What's Homecoming without the traditional festivities at half-time? Just another Friday night football game.

The Homecoming float, banners, band performances, cheers, Homecoming Court, and lots of fun and good times all emerged during half-time activities.

Everyone looked forward to these festivities, especially those girls with hopes of becoming the Homecoming Queen. Only one girl could be chosen, and that was Donna Lafone.

School spirit shone throughout Homecoming week. Students participated in activities designated for certain days.

You have heard people say, "Don't sweat it!" That was not the case on Monday, October 14th, as students wore their "sweat attire" in honor of "Make 'em Sweat Day!"

What better way to get a home-room "fired up" than to display their spirit on a door banner. Wednesday the banners were judged and a winner was chosen.

The "heat" was "on" Thursday as students were "fired-up" with a little help from red-hot fireball candy.

Friday rolled around and all that bottled-up excitement was released at the sound of each bell as everyone yelled a cheer for SSHS.

At the annual Homecoming pep rally, everyone came together, forming a sea of red and white, enthusiastically expressing their hopes for a Homecoming victory.

Tomorrow Begins Tonight

Valedictorian Lorraine Lee gives her farewell speech to graduates and parents as Assistant Principals Gerald Bowman and Jennifer Moore look on.

We finally made it. A friend gives Tammy Williams a congratulatory hug before commencement.

The arrival of spring brought a flurry of excitement to the 1985 senior class. The halls buzzed with talk of the prom, college acceptances, yearbooks and that final step toward life—graduation.

Seniors were busy addressing and mailing invitations, exchanging name-boards, and modeling graduation robes.

As graduation neared on the calendar, seniors were dismissed from school a week earlier than underclassmen. However, they found that their extra week of vacation was not all fun and games. Countless hours were spent in the sweltering heat of the gymnasium preparing for graduation exercises.

Finally, graduation night arrived. A sea of smiling faces surrounded by bright red caps and gowns filled the courtyard of P.E. Monroe Auditorium. Friends and parents scurried about an already packed building trying to find their seats.

At 7:30 p.m., the Grand Processional marked the beginning of the commencement exercises. The welcoming address and the sermon followed. The slide presentation gave seniors time to reflect on the past four years. In all, 248 seniors proudly walked across stage and received their diplomas.

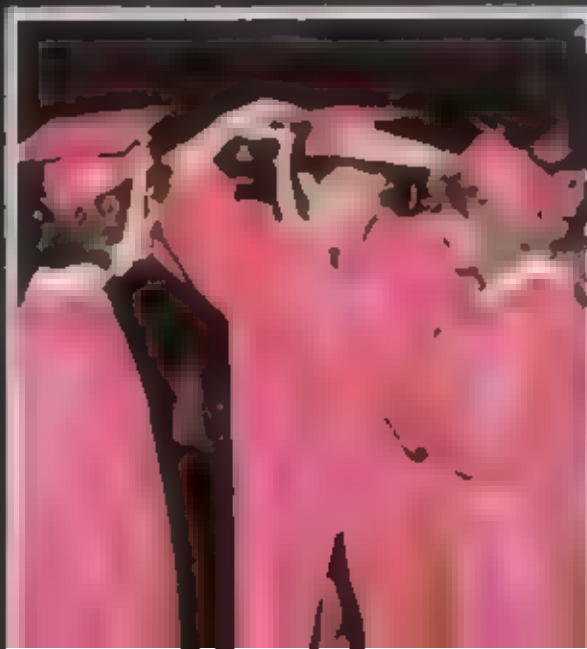

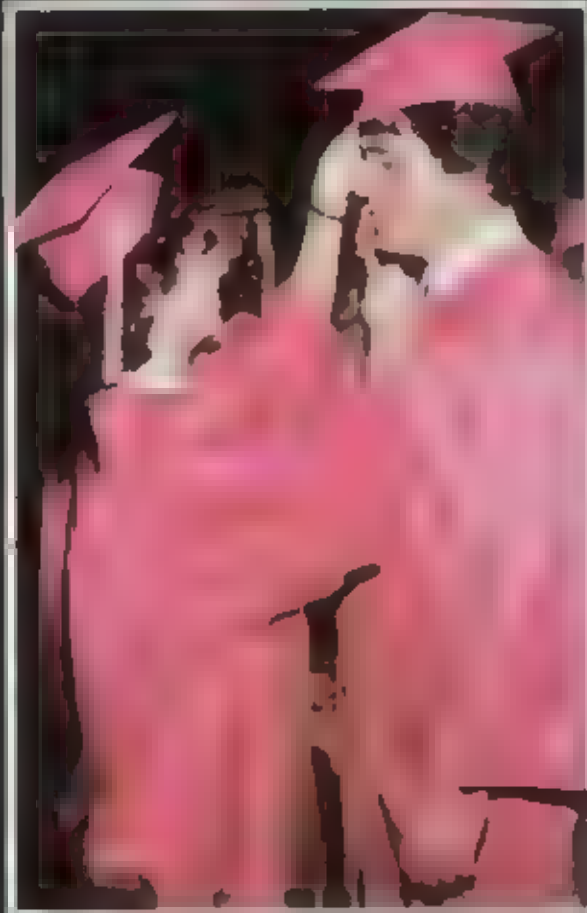

Then came the official sign of graduation—the changing of the tassels from left to right. Afterwards, valedictorian Lorraine Lee closed the ceremony with her farewell address.

"Young" seemed to both an advantage and a disadvantage to this season's two year old soccer team here at St. Stephens High during the 1985 year.

"The players kept a good, winning attitude throughout the season," said Coach Dean Hamrick. This year's outstanding team members were, for the freshman class, Khanty Dara, sophomores, Scott Abbott and Rodney Miller, Rodney King, a junior, and for the seniors, were the three captains, Phillip Bunton, Jennifer Jones, and Scott Parrish.

Coach Hamrick has kept a positive outlook for next year's season. The team will be losing five seniors, but that makes room for the up-and-coming outstanding players for next year.

Khanty Dara, received the most valuable offensive player award. Goalie, Kevin McCloy, was given the Team-Before-Self award. Scott Parrish received two awards, one being the Most Valuable Defensive Player and the other an award given to him by the United States Army for his athletic and academic achievements — the Class of 1986 Soccer MVP Award.

Freshman Khanty Dara, and sophomore Eric Robinson seem to be having a slight problem.

JV Volleyball

Finishing the year with a nineteen and six record, the junior varsity volleyball team proved that hard work and dedication do in fact pay off. They showed that trying your best does improve yourself as well as the performance of the team. Not only did they do their best during matches, but during practice as well. They helped each other with the problems that confronted them. They indeed showed what a team is. After their own game was over they stayed to help cheer on the varsity team.

Amy Reed as captain showed the fine art of being in charge and not letting it go to one's head. She was in control all of the time, not just when the team was doing well, but during the tough games as well. Amy was quoted as saying, "I do my best for my team not for my self."

The JV team displayed an eagerness to learn from the varsity team as well as from Coach Sally Bradshaw. Teamwork with the varsity and the JV team was an important factor with both teams. Coach Bradshaw showed us that the saying "No pain, no gain" does indeed hold true. The practices were not easy by any means — running, hitting, more running followed by bumping, spiking and setting drills. If you liked to work hard and sweat a lot, the girls JV volleyball team is what you should go out for next year.

Varsity Volleyball

The Varsity Volleyball team again proved that they were indeed winners. After winning a major tournament at East Gaston, they proved it was no mistake that skill, not luck, led this team to the State Finals.

Led by captain Mary Beckom and co-captain Lisa Zimmerman, the Lady Indians had a final record of twenty wins and seven losses. Each time the players went onto the volleyball court, they went on with confidence and school pride. They continued the tradition of excellence here at St. Stephens. We should be proud to have had such a fine volleyball team to represent us.

As the season progressed the crowds of spectators also grew. Not only did the parents of the players but the principals, teachers, and students of St. Stephens came to see our winning girls' volleyball team. Let's hope that next year there will be even more fans to cheer them on.

Another honor bestowed on the team was having four of the players to make All-Conference. They were Mary Beckom, Lisa Zimmerman, Melinda Clamplitt, and Sharon Hathcock. These four demonstrated excellent form and precision.

Although the team was eliminated in the first round of the State Finals, they proved that they were a very intense team by winning at East Gaston. They beat West Charlotte and South Mecklenburg.

All we can hope is that the team will do as well or even better next year. Keep up the fine job and thanks for the great performance.

Girls Tennis

If you were near St. Stephens on an early fall day you could more than likely hear the girls tennis team at practice. The girls practiced long and hard every day. After practice it usually showed.

Two seniors went to the regionals, Toni Thornberg and Wendy Propst. They were the number one doubles team on the girls' tennis team. They were also numbers one and two on the team. Numbers three and four were Amy Pope and Karen (Speedy) Reitzel. The girls got their numbers from their ranking on the team. A girl could challenge and move up at anytime. When match time came around the number one places on each team squared off, the same with number two, number three, and so on. This insured that two players were not unevenly matched

The St. Stephens girls tennis team had a good year. The team next year should be as good or better because the loss of a few seniors. But these seniors were key. The team centered around these seniors. But there was also leadership from a strong junior class.

Cross Country

Six to nine miles a day. Now that is a workout. Most people couldn't put out that much dedication for any sport. But 30 dedicated students at St. Stephens put out that much and more. "This is the hardest we ever worked," stated Jimmy Withers. And this hard work paid off.

This year's Cross Country team had one of its most successful seasons. "Our hardest opponent was Hibriten, but our easiest was Fred T. Foard," said Jimmy Withers. "Our team had many strong points, but one of our best was our conditioning. Our weak point was our speed," said Rodney King. "We could outrun them, but not out speed them. We had a lot of trouble with the end of the race. We couldn't hold them off. If we were far ahead of them, we could win," stated Rodney.

"This year's team showed a lot of dedication. We worked hard this year. Our effort was the best in a long time. The attitude of the team was very proud. The attitude was good by everyone, even the people who weren't the top runners," stated Jimmy Withers. The team of this year deserves a pat on the back. They have worked hard this year and made it a lot of fun. "It was made fun by the seniors. They added a lot to the team," said Rodney. The team also had a lot of juniors and they will be a large part of the team next year. They will be led by Kirk Morrow and assure St. Stephens of another winning season.

JV Football

The St. Stephens High School JV football team started off the season with a shocking tie of 6 to 6 verses Maiden High School.

The team was well prepared for fundamentals and played near their potential in most games. The starting lineups consisted of five sophomores and six freshmen on offense. Also, four sophomores and seven freshmen on defense.

Coach Roland Scott referred to Hibriten as their best game. Two running backs had over 100 yards each and the defense played super.

This year a good number of freshmen got lots of playing time. So the JV football team should have a well-prepared base for a good team in the 86-87 season.

Varsity Football

The goal of the St. Stephens Varsity Team this year was to win an away game. They did not reach their goal but they did tie an away game. They tied Bunker-Hill, 14 to 14. Bunker-Hill was a state ranked team and St. Stephens could have won with an extra point. The team played superbly. Seven seniors and four juniors were the starting offense team. Five seniors and six juniors were on the starting defense team.

Overall the team had a good attitude towards the game and pulled through with senior leadership. Next year the team will be missing some very good seniors. But Coach Roland Scott hopes that the juniors will work hard this off-season to get ready for the upcoming year.

The J.V. Girls' Basketball team had a great season this year. The team was made up of 14 players, the starting five consisting of 4 sophomores and 1 freshman. The team was young, but gained much experience. They had the ability to play well together; they had a strong defense, and on offense the team was good at working the ball around to the open person. The best game was against Hickory High, in which they scored 70 points, 24 of which were on the freethrow line. The record for non-conference was five and five, and they did great in the conference. To sum it up, coach De-Anna Huttman said, "The girls are a real good group to work with, and they don't ever give up."

Lady Indians Strive For Success

As a new year rolled around for our varsity girls basketball team, our gym was once again transformed into an arena of excitement. Our Lady Indians could be seen displaying all their effort and enthusiasm necessary for a winning season.

The 1985-1986 Varsity Girls Basketball team had one big advantage going for them, most of the teammates had played basketball all through their high school careers. It was this aspect that Amanda Westby commented on, "Due to our experience which we have been building for the past three years, we are looking forward to a successful and prosperous senior year."

One of the most thrilling games the Indians played was against the nationally ranked West Caldwell. The Indians could not pull out the win; however they played professionally and heroically against a difficult rival.

One of the disadvantages expressed by some of the team members was the shortness of the team. If they would have possessed a few taller people, they would have had a better advantage. However an advantage to being small is being quick. This quickness and agility helped win many victories.

Another advantage of the team was by the overwhelming support of the team by the fans. On behalf of the school we would like the team to know, we were behind them all the way and we wish them many more victories.

"Take time and work the ball," yelled Coach Jeff Price as a time-out was called and they were in the huddle. "I know that you can do it," he added with a slap on the back. After this, the players sprang to life. "Let's go," they chanted as they hustled back onto the court, ready to win the game.

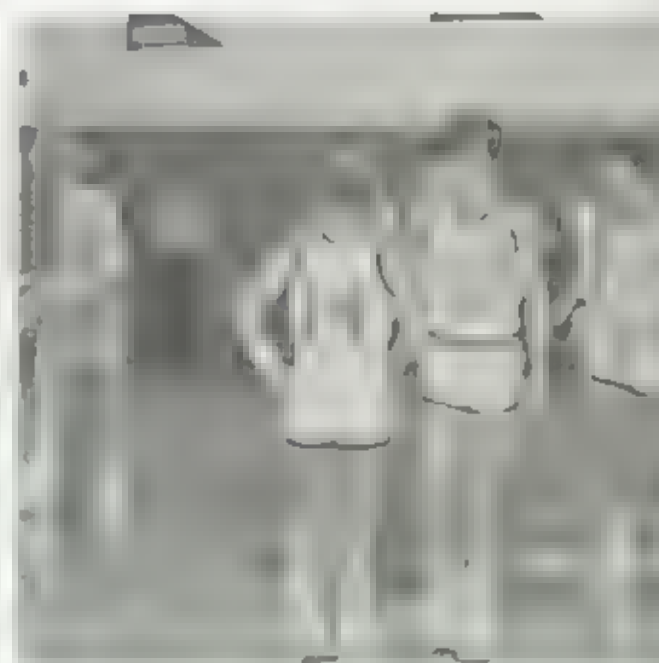

Coach Price, a physical education major from Lenox Rhyne, was back for his second coaching season at St. Stephens High, along with four returning players. The junior varsity team was young, but with practicing every day to increase strength and endurance, they played every game with outstanding agility and without committing costly errors.

The team, as a whole, improved their offensive and defensive skills with every game they played.

"The coach inspires us with his pep talks and makes us want to play to our full potential," said one player, "even when we are really tired, he'll make us feel like we just started playing."

Adding the victories and defeats, the junior varsity basketball team had done battle with several tough competitors. Though disappointed by losing some very close games, they still worked hard to improve. They fought wrecklessly to come out on top and we were proud of them for showing their Indian Spirit.

The disappointment showed as the varsity Indians trudged their way back to the locker room. After the last two hours of fast-moving, sweat-breaking basketball action, the Indian team had lost a double overtime Bunker Hill had squeezed by with the score in their favor. Next time Bunker Hill would not be so lucky. The Indians were on the war path now, and victory was on their side. At 8:00 p.m. Saturday night on December 28, the St. Stephens Varsity basketball team was warmed up and ready to go. They dominated the Bears throughout the entire game and ended with the score 64-52. Now look who was the best!

The St. Stephens varsity boys basketball team dribbled their way to a successful season. Besides beating Bunker Hill, the Indians defeated their rival — Hickory High Tomatoes — at St. Stephens. These were two of the most well-played and best-executed games with the high scorers being captain Dean Cline and Mike Ludwig.

Coach Harry Frye practiced with the team every day to improve skills and technique. The Indians ended up with a well-balanced season. The varsity boys played well the entire season.

J.V. Wrestling

Forty-eight, forty-nine, fifty . . . these numbers rang constantly through the ears of the J.V. wrestlers. Only strong determination and a real love for the sport could get a person through some of the relentless practices.

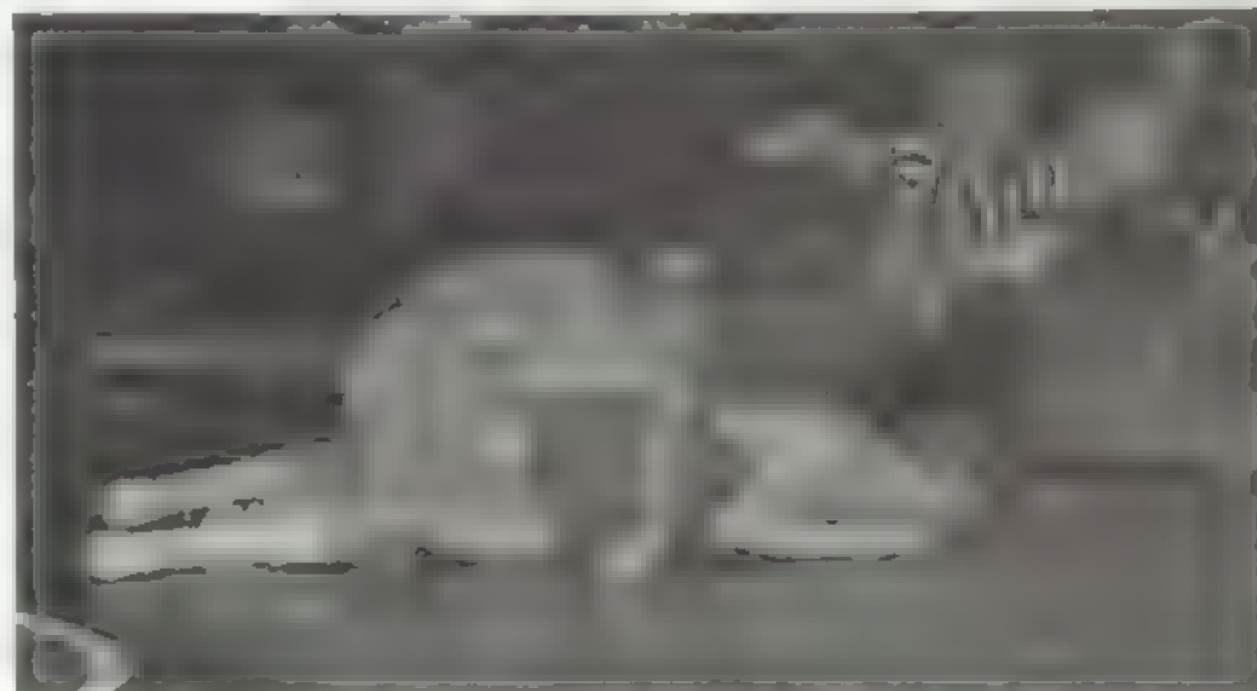

Fifty pushups here and two miles of running there were the life style of the wrestlers throughout the season, but even though the practices were sometimes long and hard, the 1985-1986 7th, 8th, and 9th grade wrestling team enjoyed a successful campaign and ended up with a four wins and five losses record.

The team started the year opening up with wins over Newton-Conover and Granite Falls. Then came the tough losses against Shelby and King's Mountain, both of which are year-in and year-out perennial powers. Other losses which were heartbreakers included two three-point losses to Hudson and a one-point loss to West Lincoln which the Indians had beaten earlier in the season. On January 25, 1986, St. Stephens held the first annual Jr. High Tournament, in which the team finished third. Leading the team on the mat in wins were Scott Kearns 8-3, Michael Propst 8-2, Paul Belvins 8-3, and Jason Berry 8-3. Overall the Indians are looking with great optimism to next year's season. There are several good athletes returning from this year's squad and this insures optimistic notes among all other coaches.

Wrestling

A normal day in the life of a wrestler starts in the morning like all the others. The only difference in that of others and that of a wrestler is that during the season very little is eaten. This is to reduce weight. There is a saying, with each match you must wrestle twice, first with your weight, then with your opponent. This year the team did a very good job with both. Most wrestlers will agree that the hardest part of the season was not the matches. It was the practice. Most practices lasted about two hours. This usually encompassed from two to four miles of running, then an extensive warm-up drill (this would be enough for most people). After this, practice started periods of wrestling, teaching new moves, and drill in the ones that had been learned earlier, climb the rope twice, do as many chin-ups as one could and go home.

The outlook for the '85-'86 season was one of the best ever with an undefeated regular season tournament record. There was only one loss in the dual meets and that was to one of the roughest teams in the state, Statesville. This team had more pins than any other team in St. Stephens history. They were also close to the total team points record. This year St. Stephens could send more people to the state championship tournament than ever before.

The outlook for next year is better than ever. The team only started seniors, Doug Killian (weight class 119) and Darrin Shook (weight class 138). The returning members of the team are at 98 Andy Phelps, 105 Drew Sigman, 112 Bryan Pitts, 126 Ryan Whetzel, 132 Steve Floyd, 145 Kevin Berry, 155 Kevin Carter, 167 Brad Canipe, 185 Paul Queen, 195 James Carswell, and HWT Eric Isenhour. Ten and zero was the Lady Indians' record after the first half of the season. The first two games with Hickory High really built up the Lady Indians' spirit. With a new coach, five new players, and the skill and experience of 11 returners, the Lady Indians reached their goal.

The Lady Indians referred Hickory High as their best games of the season. "Knowing this team and playing ball with them in other leagues brought along a better outlook towards the games ahead, said Sophomore Maida Sigmon.

"Base running, our hitting, and lots of enthusiasm were our strong points," remarked coach DeAnna Huffman, "while experience in our new players was our weak points.

The games overall this year were 12-7 and 8-7 in conference. Coach DeAnna Huffman said, "Next year's outlook is a good one, because we have 12 returning players and six starters. With five juniors and one senior as starters, the Lady Indians are off to a great start for the 85-86 season."

As the Indian cheerleaders sat in the gym at Davidson, the nervousness and anticipation showed. They had worked extremely hard to be the best, and this was the time to find out if all that sweat and dedication had paid off. "The Award of Excellence winner is the varsity squad from St. Stephens!" The work did pay off. Out of the four squads in the Award of Excellence, two squads were from St. Stephens. This marked the fourth consecutive year that St. Stephens varsity received the Award of Excellence and the second year that the J.V. placed in the top four along with the a varsity. Not only did St. Stephens win, but it also had five girls nominated for All-American — Gayle Rhyne, Missy Hefner, Susan Killian, Carol Dunton, and Amy Huffman.

Besides going to camp at Davidson over the summer, the varsity spent a lot of time together and got to know each other. Two Saturdays they got out the buckets and water hoses and had a car wash to raise money. Some practices did not make it too far before everyone loaded up and went to Shoney's for breakfast. The summer was really a lot of fun and hard work put together.

For the second year in a row, the varsity cheerleaders earned the right to compete at Nationals. In 1984 they flew to the hometown of the Dallas Cowboys. Practices were filled with sweat and determination. Their coach, Jill Blair and her husband, Tillman were the biggest help to the varsity. Jill designed all the routines and choreographies. She and Tillman sometimes spent as many as six hours at a time helping the squad to perfect their routine. At Dallas the competition was unreal, but St. Stephens came out 29th out of 83. This was a huge accomplishment for the squad. In 1985 on December 27 the varsity once again flew to Nationals. This time they were held in the big orange state, Orlando, Florida. The squad reached for even higher goals and hoped to obtain them.

Friday night football games let the cheerleaders show their spirit by doing cheers and peppy chants. Keeping the crowd spirited was what it was all about. Pep rallies pepped up the school and fired up the players. Sometimes the players even became the cheerleaders. They were pretty good too. Basketball games were even better. With the help and support of the crowd the cheering was easy and fun.

Addie and Heather show their spirit by jumping and pepping up the crowd.

"Let's go red!", shouts Missy and Helen at the Friday night football game.

In November 1985 the squad went to Asheville to compete. They strutted their stuff to show who was the best. This was one of the many stunts that the squad exhibited.

"Control is the key to take that victory." These chants really helped pick up the crowd.

Look at them! Hammin' it up.

J.V. Cheerleading

Go Big Red! The J.V. Cheerleaders played a major role in boosting school spirit. The long hours and dedication put forth had resulted in much recognition for this group. The J.V.'s attended camp this year at Davidson College and were chosen as one of the top four squads that attended. Of the 15 girls who were chosen to compete for the title of All-American Cheerleader, one of our own J.V.'s Amy Huffman was selected to compete. They had a car wash and sold spirit pins to raise money for new outfits. Summer practices proved to be recreational as well as beneficial, and this was brought out with every performance at our football and basketball games. St. Stephens can truly be proud to call this squad Indians!

Boy's Tennis

"We played very good tennis; we had a lot of returning players. They were our greatest asset. They proved to be the center of our team. The veterans of the team were not like on-the-court coaches. We had a good time this year. Isn't that what a sport is for?" stated Brad Koser.

In talking with team members there were many good games. "It was hard to pick only one game as the best," most said. The match with Bunker Hill was the team's best overall match.

The team's attitude was somewhat negative because of five defeats, but they also evened up their record with five great wins. "The team's attitude wasn't bad, it just wasn't as good as in years past," said Koser.

Golf

The St. Stephens golf team this year consisted of nine players. All of whom put forth 100 percent effort toward the success of the team. Coach Roland Scott said, "Watuga was our best match. In this match we had seven players shoot in the 70's and that is excellent."

All year long the team played good competition. Each individual player had a goal of conference champion, but the team did have three students to go to the sectionals. Jason Petty received most valuable player, Steve Goins was most improved and Todd Good received team before self.

With seven returning players, Coach Roland Scott is looking forward to an even better season next year.

Girls Track

With a record of 13-2, the Lady Indians finished the 1985 track season second in the Northwestern Conference, behind Hibriten.

There were four records broken this year by the girls: Angie Holder in the triple jump, Karen Reitzel in the 300m low hurdles, and Patty King in the 1600m and 800m. There were three girls that were All-Conference: Angie Holder in the long jump and triple jump, Karen Reitzel in the 300m low hurdles, and last, but far from least, Patty King in the 1600m, 800m and 3200m.

For the first time in St. Stephens history we had a state champion. This state champion was Patty King running in the 3200m run. The discipline and determination she has always shown had finally paid off.

Five girls went onto the sectionals. They were Patty King, finishing first in the 1600m and 3200m, Karen Reitzel finishing first in the 300m low hurdles, and the 400 relay team finishing first, consisting of Karen Reitzel, Crystal Withers, Heidi Barger and Angie Holder. Angie Holder finished second in the triple jump.

Team awards were voted on by the players. The awards were given to Christy Hedrick for Most Improved, Angie Holder for Best Field Events, Karen Reitzel for Best Sprinter, Patty King for Best Distance, and Julie Spencer for Team Before Self, and Patty King and Angie Holder for Most Valuable Runner.

There were 44 runners on the team. Only five of them were seniors. They were very young team and should be stronger this upcoming year. The girls had a points competition between classes, the five seniors finished first with 241 points, the freshman finished second with 215 points, the juniors with 213 points and the sophomores with 166 points.

Boys Track

The boys' track team had a very good season last year. For the fourth time in a row, the Indians finished on top of the Northwestern Conference. They were undefeated in conference play and 31-6 overall.

The team was not made up of Carl Lewises, but it was a well-balanced team. There were sixty members, 18 seniors, 10 juniors, 20 sophomores, and 12 freshmen.

There is a class scoring competition each year. This past year the seniors finished first with a total of 572 points. The sophomores finished second with 558 points. The juniors and freshmen ended with 379 and 757 points respectively. Twenty people lettered for the first time and 40 people received stars.

The team was also assisted by a very able team of statisticians and managers Tina Craig, Heather Kane, Susan Crouch, Carolyn Travis, and Annette Williams.

Eight of the track team qualified for sectionals: Bobby Judson in the discus, Heath McBride in the shot, Chuck Gibbs, Andy Burns, and Darren Allen in the pole vault, Kirk Morrow in the 1600 meter and the 800 meter, Scott Oakes in the 300 meter hurdles and Nick Kentopp in the 400 meter.

Three of these runners went on to the regionals: Heath McBride, Kirk Morrow, and Scott Oakes.

There were nine runners in seven events who made All-Conference: Heath McBride in shot, Bobby Hudson in discus, Tracy Withers in the long jump, Tracy Withers in the triple jump, Mark Oakes in the 400 meter, Scott Oakes in the 300 meter hurdles, and the 1600 meter relay team consisting of Jimmy Withers, Todd Huffman, Mark Oakes, and Nick Kentopp.

Two people broke school records last year, Andy Gibbs and Chuck Gibbs in the Pole Vault.

At the end of the season the entire team voted on team awards. Most Improved, Rodney King; Best Field Events, Heath McBride; Mark Teague; Best Sprinter, Mark Teague; Best Distance, Kirk Morrow; Team Before Self, Scott Oakes; Most Valuable, Tracy Withers.

Varsity Baseball

The Varsity Indian Baseball team had an even 10-win, 10-loss season last year. Scott Rosenschein received All-Conference and batting champion awards. Huey McPherson and Scott Hendrix were the winning pitchers. The most valuable offensive player award went to Scott Rosenschein. Danny Billow was awarded the most valuable defensive player. Rising seniors, Scott Rosenschein and Mark D. Huffman are expected to be key players during the 1985-1986 season.

J. V. Baseball

Although the Junior Varsity baseball season did not go as the team had hoped, there was a lot of hard work and good effort put into every game. The team deserved a pat on the back for keeping a winning attitude throughout the season.

The attitude of the team was aided by the pitching of Lee Stoss. "Lee pitched well in the Watauga games both of them," said Kevin Houston. Some of the other pitchers were Eric Isenhour and Michael Gerkin.

The starting nine players were Eric Isenhour at first, Rickey Rudisill played second, Steven Hollar at short-stop, Keith Huffman at third, Drew Sigmon in left field, Kevin Houston in center-field, Greg Sain in right field, Lee Stoss on the mound and Mark Sigmon was behind the plate.

Leading the team in batting averages were Mark Sigmon with a .411 average, closely followed by Drew Sigmon with a .395 average.

Freshman, Mark Sigmon was voted Most Valuable player. The Team-Before-Self Award went to sophomore Andy Phelps.

"If I don't see it, it's not done." This was the standing rule of the Corona advisor, Jane Lee. This year's staff worked really hard to be sure that all was done well and on time. This meant many long hours of writing, designing, taking pictures, interviewing and double-checking. All the hard work was worth the effort, especially when the yearbooks came back.

The Corona staff was led by Joy Sig- mon, and Mary Beckom. These people oversaw the work and checked each page as it was completed. In addition, they put together the mini-magazine section that was new to the book this year. Section editors were Kelly Price, Managing Editor, Denise Lunsford — Business Editor, Helen Spatz — Clubs Editor, Tommy St. Clair — Sports Editor, and Hope Propst — People Editor. Each of them worked with their staff to design each section with its own distinctive look. They also kept a close eye on what their staff was doing and gave help whenever needed.

Each deadline brought the book closer to completion, and the final deadline brought cheers of relief. This year's book was one of which the staff was very proud.

Torch Torch Torch Torch

If you have ever had Mrs. Karen Eades, for a teacher, you know that when there is a Torch deadline, you had better stay out of her way. She often has frantic fits of emotion on these days. This is a lady who has borne the burden of our newspaper for five years, and it gets better every year.

Little is known about the work and effort that is involved in doing every issue of the Torch. Jamie Reese editor of the Torch this year, put hours and hours of work into the newspaper after school was over. This was no different than the other thirteen students who were on the staff.

In order to be a Torch member one must fill out an application and have a recommendation from an English teacher. The student must be in College Prep English or above, must have good English grades, and must have a strong point in writing. The Torch takes the paper to competition in the North Carolina Scholastic Press Association and the Columbia Scholastic Press Association. They usually come away with an excellent rating. Last year they won second place in the Columbia Scholastic Press, which is a national competition.

A lot of money went into an issue of the Torch. They had to pay typesetting, printing, and photography bills. In order to help pay these bills, the Torch Staff had a bake sale and a car wash. It proved to be a big success and also a lot of fun.

Being a member of the Torch staff teaches how a newspaper is put together and published. It also teaches good writing skills.

Ask any Torch member and they will tell you that even though it is a lot of hard work, there is a great joy in seeing the finished product. St. Stephens would not be the same without the timely articles and interesting pictures that the Torch has to offer. All our thanks to Mrs. Eades and her staff for bringing us another excellent year with the Torch.

Impressions

Few schools have the journalistic talents that St. Stephens possesses. Our school abounds in talent. An excellent example of this was our Impressions Staff. These few people managed to compile the best literary works St. Stephens has to offer.

The Impressions Staff consisted of seven members, with Tammie Faulkner as the editor. Under the leadership of Loyd Hoke, the staff was able to create a lasting book of memoirs that will be treasured for years to come.

The book was sold near the end of the year. The staff had to sell many books in order to cover the costs of the publishing. Honors English classes were recruited to sell the literary magazine.

The Impressions Staff upon graduating from St. Stephens will depart with a better knowledge of what it takes to make a literary magazine. They will also take with them a knowledge of writing and journalistic skills. St. Stephens is grateful to the Impressions Staff for its diligent work and for creating a lasting magazine memoirs.

Radio Staff

One of the most loved aspects of St. Stephens was our announcements. Every student longed to hear what was happening in his or her life at St. Stephens every morning and afternoon. Whoever did these announcements day after day? At the beginning of the year everyone tried to guess who was talking on the intercom. Well, the answer to that question was the the undaunted Radio Staff. These select few devoted hours of their time in order to capture life at St. Stephens. Sure, not all people looked forward to the announcements, but without them we would have been lost.

The three advisors of the Radio Staff were Tim Carpenter, Mary Long, and Joe Coler. These three people saw that a recording of events at St. Stephens was produced. The staff, which consisted of 20 people, worked many long hours while doing a recording. The tape had to be perfect, so it usually called for several takes.

The three officers of the staff were Teresa Haas, Tammie Faulkner and Joe Saulnier. These three students tied the staff together.

In order to be a member of the Radio Staff one had to attend the meetings, and have an interest in journalistic skills which would benefit the students in their writing and any endeavors they may seek in the future.

St. Stephens appreciated the Radio Staff. They honored St. Stephens by doing their radio show, which was always professionally written and entertaining to hear.

Recognition of Excellence

The Beta Club at St. Stephens was sponsored by Priscilla Watts, Sandra Kelly, Donna Maye, and Helen Workman. Its purpose was to recognize outstanding achievement.

There were five steps to becoming a member of the Beta Club: complete the freshman year of high school, maintain at least a 3.5 grade point average (GPA), and complete at least two weighted courses. Also, a student should have been approved by the principal and ninety-three percent of the faculty and have exhibited exemplary behavior.

There were thirty-five seniors in the club. Also, on December 11, six seniors and thirty-one juniors were inducted. From these seventy-two members, Deidra Sigmon, Robbie Redden, Mary Beckom, and Joey Saulnier, were chosen as president, vice-president, secretary, and treasurer, respectively.

This group met monthly to plan for upcoming fund-raising events. The money raised was used for the Beta Club Scholarship, induction service materials, and plaques for the eight "Outstanding Students." The new members were required to pay $10.00 dues for local and national membership.

The newly-inducted students, before being considered members, had to pass the Beta Initiation. This past year the students had to dress as "Beta Babies." They came to school on December 18, dressed in diapers and pajamas. These students carried candy for senior members while exclaiming, "I'm an itty bitty Beta baby." Although the induction was somewhat degrading, new members could look back and laugh. They always were thinking about the next year's initiation and what fun it would be.

The club participated in an annual National Writing Competition. Last year, Patty King, class of '85, won in features writing.

The Elite Few

The National Thespian Society is an honor society for people involved in theatre. To be inducted into the troupe, one must earn a total of ten points by attending plays, working backstage, reading plays, and performances.

Many of St. Stephens Thespians had written and directed independent projects. Deb McCarley and Anita Sandlin, Laura Weeldreyer and Patrick Abernathy all produced their own reader's theatres, a type of theatre that involved little costuming or technical work, and the actors held a script, actually reading the play to the audience.

Every person involved in the theatre worked toward becoming a Thespian. Throughout one's whole life, he or she will be recognized for his or her work in drama.

Thespian troupe 3462, Deb Wakefield, advisor, has long been a part of community theatre. It is rare to see a play in Hickory without seeing some involvement from the Thespians, whether it is on stage or back stage.

Thespians, a talented few of St. Stephens students, should be recognized for their devotion to their art, and their secret dreams of winning an Oscar.

Le Cercle Francais

Qu'est-ce qui etait le Cercle Francais? It was about 43% of the school. Yes, the French Club was one of the largest clubs at SSHS with 150 members. The advisors Ms. Burleson and Ms. Aundrea Long, said, "The purpose of our club is to promote the French culture." They did a good job of this, with the help of Toni Throneburg, Mary Beckom, and Kelly Sigmon, president, vice-president, and secretary, respectively.

In order to be a member, one should have been in a French class or have completed the French IV course.

The club sponsored a Mardi Gras, pen pals, bingo parties, magazines, Foreign Language Week, and, new this year, a doughnut sale. They sold an outstanding 1,065 dozen doughnuts.

Also, in June of 1985, twelve of the club students made an exciting journey to Europe where they spent a glorious thirteen days.

Spanish Spanish Spanis

Spanish Club

The word "Hola" was probably the most used Spanish word at St. Stephens. People who did not even take Spanish were heard saying it through the halls, even if they didn't know how to pronounce it correctly. The 1985-86 Spanish club had another great year.

The Spanish club was led by three very enthusiastic advisors, Jackie Daughton, Jane Lee, and Monica Winter. These three ladies helped a huge number of people to further understand the value of the Spanish language.

The Spanish club also had enthusiastic officers, who saw that the many club activities were a success. The officers were Andrea Poovey, President; Matt Dean, vice-president; and Jennifer Jones as the secretary/treasurer.

The Spanish club did many fun activities, such as going to a local Mexican restaurant for dinner, going to see Spanish plays or performances, and having the annual Foreign Language Day at Lenoir-Rhyne College. While at the college, they sang, danced, and performed skits. It proved to be an exciting day for everyone.

The Spanish club gives a scholarship every year to two lucky students. Last year's recipients were Patty King and Lorraine Lee.

In order for one to be a member of the Spanish club, one must be enrolled in a Spanish course, and have a C average. The members are recruited through the Spanish classes. The Spanish club had over 100 members, and they sold candy for their fundraiser. The club met during the activity period and representatives from the Spanish classes reported back to the rooms to tell the other members about the plans for the future.

This year's Spanish club was composed of active members and enthusiastic advisors. That combined made for an excellent year.

THE CHRISTIAN WAY

"Peer Pressure is good!", replied Dwight Stone, who was one of the guest speakers at an FCA meeting. Throughout the year, FCA had many guest speakers who talked to the students about various subjects, but mainly about peer pressure to drink and to take drugs. The speakers talked about how students should set their lives right now, and not to wait until they get older to live the Christian way.

Fellowship of Christian Athletes is an organization where athletes join together. They have two things in common: they are Christians and they are athletes. The club wants to help their Christian life grow and to spread the word to others. The club met once a month at night and during school. The meetings consisted of prayer and devotion, and afterwards refreshments.

This year the club also sold M & M's to raise money for various activities.

MONOGRAM MONOGRAM

EARNING RECOGNITION

Watching Deanna Huffman, Sally Bradshaw, and Sandra Kelly run around a basketball court was quite amusing for St. Stephens' students who attended the annual basketball games sponsored by the Monogram Club. The basketball games were held to raise money for the club. Teachers versus students made the games very interesting. For refreshments the varsity cheerleaders sold scrumptious baked goods that had been made by their own inexperienced hands, but profits were made anyway. All money that was made was spent only on projects that the club tackled. Usually the projects were in some way to improve the school grounds.

To become a member of Monogram, one must have a letter which can be obtained through any varsity sport. The club's purpose is to recognize and promote all those who are active in varsity sports. Monogram appreciates all those who practiced long hours, sweat, and go through the pain of playing a sport for St. Stephens High.

Kirk Morrow, president of Monogram, is a member of the basketball team. He is also a member of the cheerleading squad.

Cheerleading is just one of the extra-curricular activities a person can be involved in to join Monogram club. "At least you can smile a little!"

The Unknown Side Of Government

Have you ever heard or seen something about the government that you just didn't understand?

Well, now that question can be answered by a group of St. Stephens students who are members of the Close-Up Club.

The Close-Up Club is not only a local or State club but rather a National club formed for the sole purpose of studying government on the three levels: local, state and national.

The club's officers were Matt Dean, President, Robbie Redden, Vice-President, Chris Whitson, 2nd Vice-President, Christy Killian, Secretary, and Lisa Sigmon, Treasurer.

In December members attended the Catawba Day in Hickory to study businesses and in May the Club members journeyed to Washington for a week to tour the Capital close up.

Mother Nature At Work

Working together was one of the big accomplishments of the Biology Club this year.

They went to Carowinds, canoeing, hiking and even tackled the slopes at Sugar Mountain Ski Resort. These activities were designed to get members to appreciate nature.

The Biology Club was also active in fund raisers. This year they sold candy and Christmas items to raise money for their annual trip to Camp Broadstone.

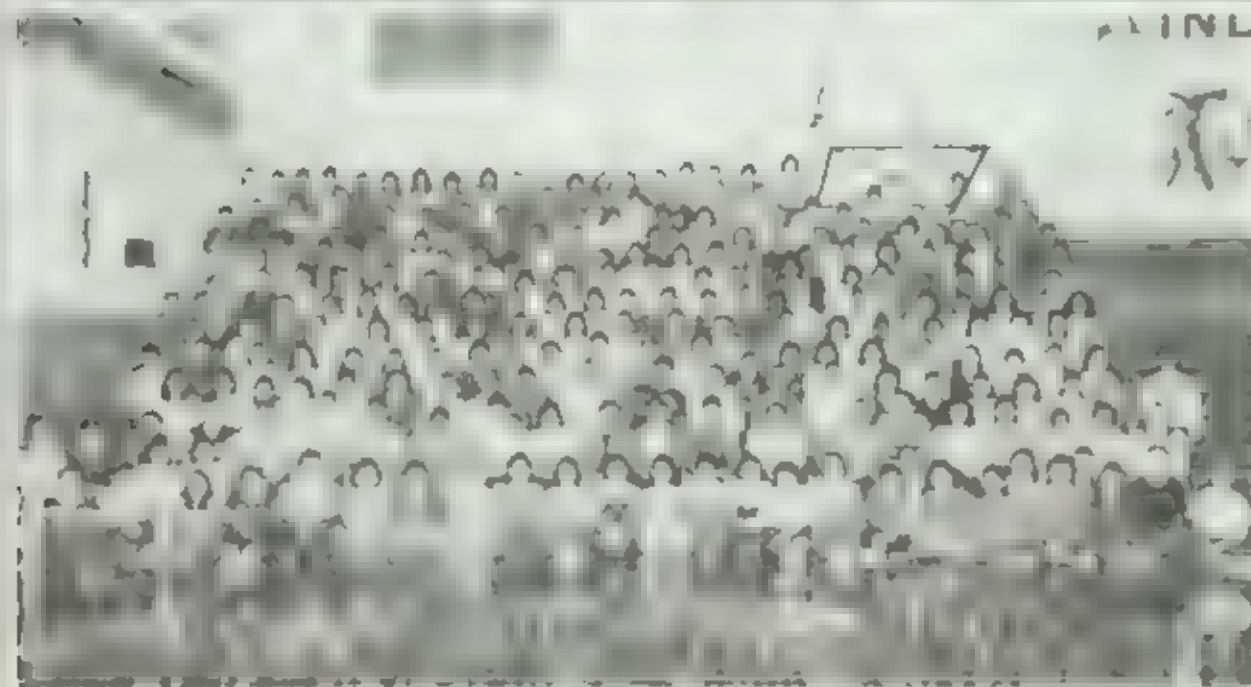

Even though there were over two hundred members only a small portion were active, but through determination and working together these members managed to keep to the true purpose of the club.

NATURE LOVERS

If you liked science experiments, nature or just science in general, this was the club for you. Students learned many new fascinating things about science in the club.

This year the science club was advised by Lester Moats and Dennis Grossnickle. Stretching the knowledge of science was the main objective of the Science Club.

The president of the club this year was senior, Scott Parish. Junior, Rodney King was the secretary/treasurer. The senior vice-president was Matt Deane.

A large majority of the thirty-six members in the Science Club were very active.

The science club scheduled events that reached beyond the classroom work.

For the members that were interested there was a Regional Science Fair at Lenoir-Rhyne College.

The Math Club has kept very busy this year. They went to Charlotte to visit Discovery Place, and competed in St. Jude's Marathon to raise money. Another way that they raised money was by having a bake sale. Also, they visited an Observatory. Mu Alpha Theta is the national society the club is in. Do you know who draws the cartoon, "The Far Side?" Do you know who wrote The Color Purple? How about who won a gold medal for men's track in the 1984 Olympics?

These are just a few sample questions you might be asked if you were a member of the St. Stephens High School Quiz Bowl team. Last year's team, made up of Chad Young, captain, Jenny Cloniger, Kelly Sigmon, Heather Kane, Laura Weeldreyer and Laura Woodby, alternates, all agreed that it really helped to have a wide range of knowledge and the ability to think fast. Sports, current events, literature, math, and North Carolina were just a few of the subjects they might be quizzed on.

As in the past, the St. Stephens Quiz Bowl team had an excellent year. The team has always been regarded as one of the best in the county. Quiz Bowl has always been and will continue to be an example of some of our school's finest intellectual ability and some very gifted students.

Worthy Opinions

Katherine Van Horne said, "My favorite thing about debate is the exhilaration of trapping someone in a cross examination getting them to say one thing and have them to take it back."

If you can talk clearly in front of a group of people, think fast on your feet and handle getting really nervous before a tournament, you might enjoy debating. During class, the ten members of the debate team spent time researching topics with manuals that they ordered and working on cases and plans. Toni Throneburg was the president, Robbie Redden was the vice-president, and Mr. Andrew was the advisor.

On November 23rd, the debate team traveled to Appalachian State University for competition. The tension had been building for weeks. "Two weeks before the tournament, I usually start getting really nervous. I worry a lot," commented Katherine Van Horne. The team had been preparing for this tournament for weeks and now, in a matter of hours, their work and dreams could be blown away, but that was part of the learning process.

The St. Stephens High School debate team spoke out and spoke out well. There were always defeats, but that only made the joy of victory sweeter. And when they met their rare defeats, we knew they would come back bigger and stronger the next time.

A picture may be worth a thousand words, but in the case of our debate team, that is not so!

Over the year the club was involved in various activities such as donating toys to the Western Carolina Center, Collecting for UNICEF, and working with the Cooperative Christian Ministry.

Enthusiasm For A Victory

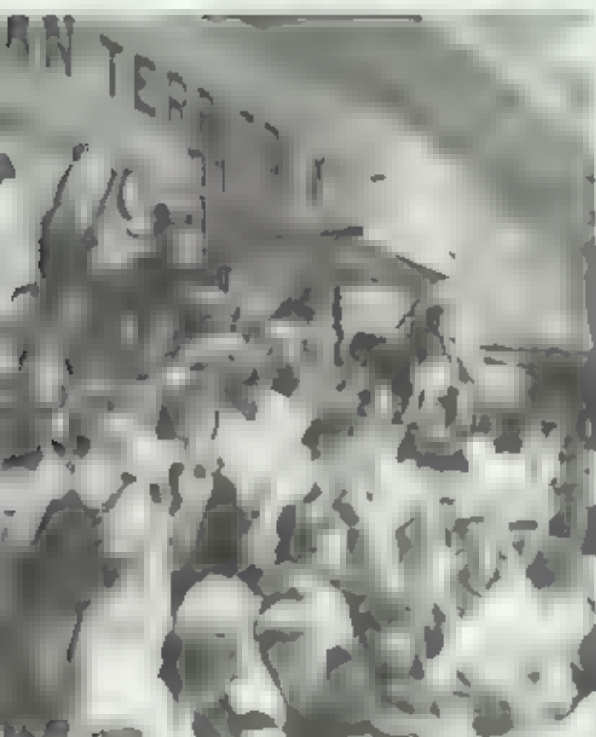

Enthusiasm is definitely one of the characteristics of the members of the St. Stephens Pep Club

The purpose of the club was to cheer the teams of St. Stephens on and to lift the spirits of the student body

School spirit and a loud voice were the only requirements to become a club member

The club members got together at all the home games to cheer our team on to a victory

The Action-Packed Club

"I call this meeting to order," said Julie Tallman, president of the St. Stephens High Interact club. She had a lot of help getting her point across from Stephanie Lee, vice-president, Ann Stafford, secretary/treasurer, and Paula Rhinehart, historian.

The purpose of the club was to help with the betterment of the community through service work. Mr. David Thomas and Ms. Pat Beard, the advisors, helped this group of students sponsor the Student of the Month and Teacher of the Quarter Awards. These are awards given to students for being outstanding in many fields.

For a fund raiser the club sold candy and planned a bake sale/car wash.

Community Spirited Club

The Key Club was here at St. Stephens, and in spite of its small membership, ten people, it took on a lot of responsibility. The Key Club helped students meet members of the Kiwanis Club, become aware of the "real world" problems, and have a chance to improve the community.

During the year, they helped Duke Power Company and winterized the homes of area elderly adults. For this they received donations from the area Kiwanis Club.

The members of the club were required to have a "C" average, and attend a weekly meeting with Mr. Moore, the adviser. Along with Mr. Moore, Gary Duncan, president, Shannon Hollar, vice-president, and Michelle Bright, treasurer, all tried to recruit new members.

Lights, camera, action, roll em! The St. Stephens Drama Club stepped into the spotlight.

In 1984 the St. Stephens Theatre group presented "Snoopy" at the Hickory Community Theatre. The comedy-musical was a big success. In 1985, it was "A Thurber Carnival", a series of comic sketches by James Thurber. The cast included Walt Scharer, Robbie Redden, Patrick Abernathy, Tommy Hall, Laura Weeldryer, Anita Sandlin, Shannon Rowe, and Marli Stone. Kathleen Wiener was the stage manager, and it was directed by Ms. Deb Waketield. "It was the experience of a lifetime!", the cast exclaimed.

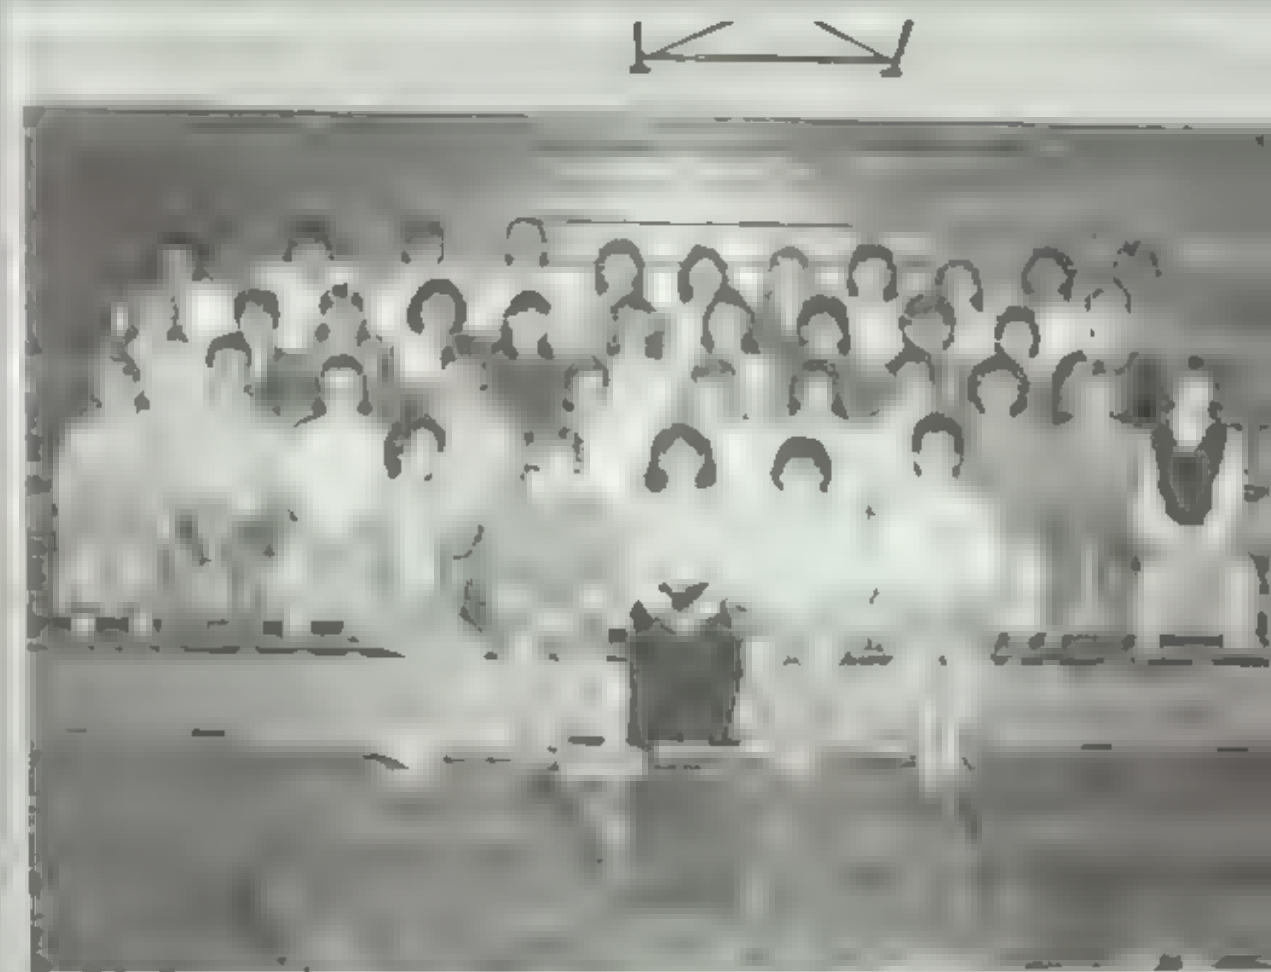

The play was always a big fundraiser, but the drama club also relied on candy sales and make-up booths to raise money for royalties, costumes and productions.

The officers were Kathleen Wiener, President, Jenny Cloninger, Vice-President, Laura Weeldreyer, Secretary and Anita Sandlin, Treasurer. They met during club B meetings and dues were one dollar. One had to participate in at least one activity each quarter such as a workshop or reading a play.

As one of the up-and-coming clubs at St. Stephens, the Drama Club was very active this year. They held workshops, attended plays, and parties and even produced some original material.

A Brush With Creativity

Students in the Art Club at St. Stephens sometimes wondered if Rembrandt started out this way. They put many long hours into their unique projects. Working with Mr. Goodnight, the advisor, was working in a high-pressured creative atmosphere and the results showed just that — creativity. The St. Stephens High School Art Club has long been noted for its outstanding art program, and many art students have been recognized for their work.

But it was not all fun and games. What most people don't realize that the art doesn't stop in the classroom. "Long, hard hours at home each night sweat and tears all went into each one of my projects.", remarked Katherine Hutchinson, an art club member.

Mr. Goodnight is highly respected for his artistic talent and his students were impressed with his knowledge.

With all the talent and dedication in the art club, we can be expecting some great things in the future. Watch out Picasso!

Practicing Safety First

Our buddy Mr. Harris, would like to know why he is getting all of the attention. Is it because they like him so much, or do they want to be like him?

Nether rain, sleet, snow nor heat kept St. Stephens' bus drivers from their rounds. "The bus drivers are here to provide safe transportation for the students in our area," said Mr. Larry Harris, assistant principal. "Also, bus-driving is a learning and growth experience as these young men and women accepted the responsibility for transporting our students to and from school," he added.

However, it's not all business. Last April, three of our drivers were involved in a Bus Rodeo. This was held in Newton for drivers across the county to show off their "safe" driving skills in competition.

To become a bus driver, one must be certified by a state written and driving exam and by a personal conference with Mr. Harris.

Sometimes I didn't like getting up at 5:30 in the morning to come to school and try to start my cold bus, but later you realize that it is worth it. It's a dirty job, but somebody's got to do it," stated one bus driver.

The bus drivers should be thanked for the outstanding job they did this year.

The Business Starts Here.

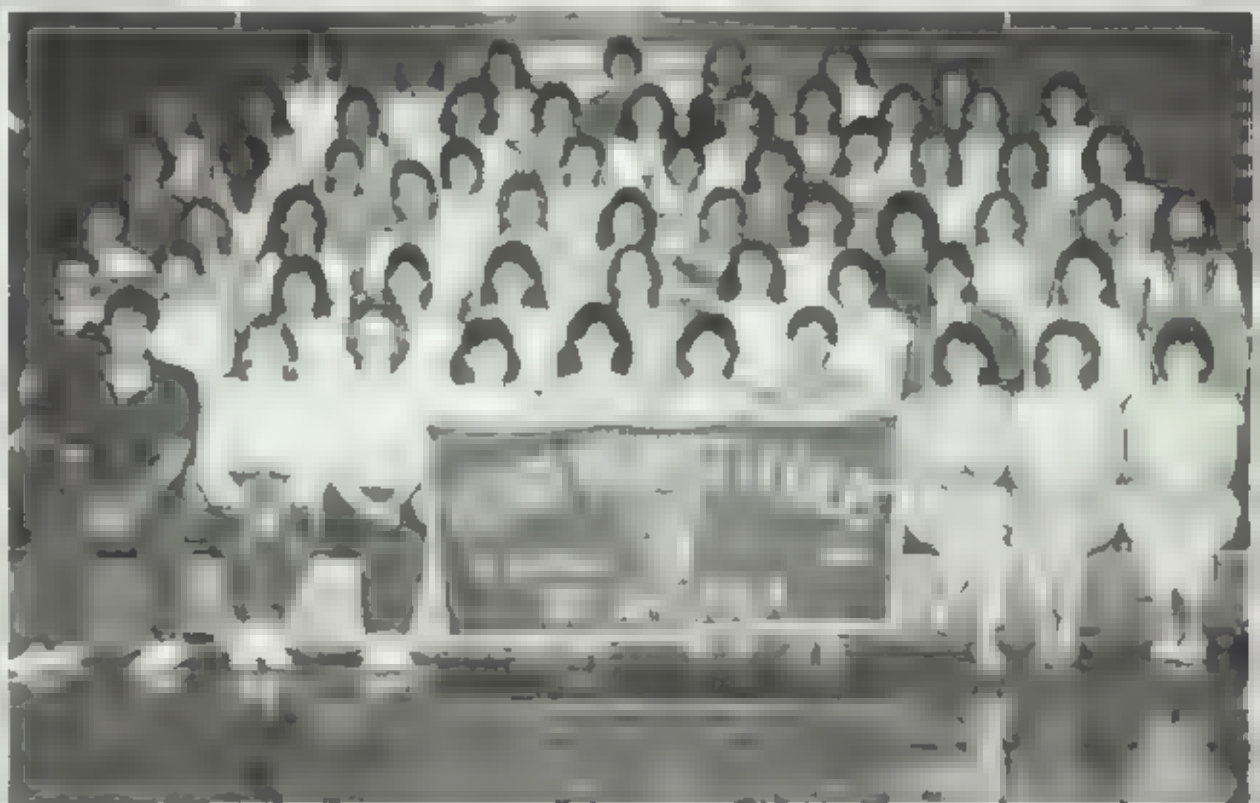

Have you ever been in a business course? Well, if your answer is yes FBLA was a club for you

The Future Business Leaders of America was a club for anyone interested in business

The purpose of the club was to provide additional opportunities for high school students in business and office education to develop vocational and career supportive competencies and to promote civic and personal responsibility

The club consisted of about seventy-five members who attended both District and State levels of competitive events dealing with business courses

Through determination and co-operation the club continued its great success in competitions

Club Officers Larry Bradshaw, Kim Lolone, Michelle Moore, and Dana Reese represent the club well

Club Advisor Mrs. Poovey, diligently works on club membership papers

Education In the Making

Education To most people that word only means going to school five days a week, but to the fifteen members of FTA it meant much more.

The purpose of Future Teachers of America is to give support to education.

This past year the club members attended both Regional and State conventions.

The main fund-raiser of the club was selling candy, the money was used to give gifts to retired teachers and to hold teachers' teas.

Club members show that studying education can be lots of fun.

Management In The Making

What club has the purpose of developing future leadership in marketing merchandizing, and management in high school students? DECA of course.

In the club, members learned what the real world is going to be like and how to attain responsibility and merchandizing skills.

The club consisted of about forty members of which attended both District and State competitions, where they received high honors.

The club members raised money for their trips through their annual school supply store at St. Stephens.

The Health Occupations Students of America was a club for students interested in medical aid and health care. The purpose of this organization was to build confidence in one's own ability to develop skills that can lead to successful employment in the health care field or successfully furthering one's education following high school graduation.

The committee this year was led by president Greta Deal and vice president Leslie Shupe. The secretary was Tina Shull. Dana Deal was the treasurer. Lora McDaniel was the reporter while the photography was handled by Martin Campbell.

If you smelled something good cooking, you could bet the aroma came from the Future Homemakers of America club meeting room. Yes, they were at it again cooking meals fit for a king.

The Future Homemakers of America Club was a club for students interested in Home Economics. The purpose of the organization was to help youth assume their roles in society through education in areas of personal and family growth, vocational preparation and even community involvement.

A majority of the thirty members were active and meetings were held monthly. Participating in demonstrations, watching filmstrips and learning new things were just a few of the constructive things which occupied their meeting time.

Help Is On The Way!!!

If you walked through the office at any time of the day, you would more than likely have heard the phone ring. And when the phone rang, someone had to answer it. Because of her many other duties, Mrs. Nickerson could not always answer it, she had to have some help. And that was where her office Assistants came into the picture. Ten students served as office assistants this year. Somehow they found it in themselves to work a little work into their schedules. And the office benefited from their efforts. The assistants helped with the little things that were so time-consuming. They answered the phone, helped to tabulate attendance, circulated the daily report, and did filing.

Another group of student assistants were huddled away at the filing cabinets in the Guidance office. Along with their other duties, they learned how a guidance program operates, how to work with people, and how all the paper work that followed each student through his high school career was handled. This year eight students worked in the Guidance office. A newcomer to the Guidance office, Mrs. Mary Long enjoyed and appreciated their help as did Mrs. Sandra Kelly and Mrs. Libby Sigmon.

Students at St. Stephens High became media center assistants by signing up for it when they made out their schedules. Their duties consisted of checking study hall students in and out of the media center, shelving books, keeping the shelves in an orderly manner and assisting students and teachers when it was needed.

The media center club consisted of media center assistants and other students who had worked in a school media center before. This year as a fundraiser, the club sold candy bars. The club's advisors were Mrs. Celia

Passing through the science hall this year, if you heard the clanging of viles and the fizzing of chemicals, you were probably hearing a lab assistant setting up a lab or helping a teacher with his or her lesson plans for the day. Lab assistants helped with labs demonstrations, and various paper work. The lab assistants made the science department run smoother and aided the teachers.

In short, students assistants at St. Stephens were a vital part of the school. Without their help, the staff would have been under more pressure than they already were, and operating costs for the school would have been higher.

"The Saints Go Marching In"

When school support and Indian Pride are what you're looking for then look no further than the St. Stephens Marching Indians. One hundred and twenty-five students made up this group this year. Their main goals were to play music to the best of their ability, learn from their mistakes, and grow stronger with time. The band was led by Joseph Cofer and was directed by Drum Major, Jennifer Bowman. These Indians dedicated long hours during and after school which resulted in competitions. One at Central Davidson proved especially successful for the Indians. They also took part in the South Eastern Classic at Newfor Junior over High.

The pride of St. Stephens was shown in more ways than one. This was proven everytime the Singing Indians performed.

The Chorus was directed by Joseph Coler with Deb McCarley president, Mark White Vice-President, Dana Hathcock Secretary, and Melissa Franklin Treasurer. These students showed enthusiasm and spirit by bringing out their vocal talents. With an expansion in size and capability the chorus was able to take part in such activities as singing at the Homecoming football game, traveling to elementary schools, and competing at Carowinds.

The twelve students which made up the stage band also proved to be examples of our Indian pride. These talented musicians came together to form an elite group. They performed at elementary schools, and also took part in a jazz festival at UNC Chapel Hill. The group had a core of six members who led the way in improvisation.

New Faces On The Totem Pole

Running a school as large as St. Stephens took a tremendous amount of work and dedication from our administration. Ken Throneburg returned for his first full year as our distinguished leader and principal. Working with him were two new faces at St. Stephens, assistant principals Larry Harris and Judy Wolfe. Mr. Harris had many duties assigned to him, including student parking, busing, and several aspects of the athletic program. Mrs. Wolfe also had several duties, most time consuming among these being daily attendance. All three administrators took on tremendous tasks and performed them exceptionally well, and as a result, St. Stephens had a very well-organized and successful year.

Taking a break Mr. Throneburg discovers that he doesn't have a problem that needs immediate attention — a rare situation.

Behind every good administrator is a qualified secretarial staff, and the group at St. Stephens was one of the best. This year was an exceptionally busy one, but the office staff still managed to keep its composure and carry out the hundreds of duties that kept the school running well.

Marta Isenhour helped Mr. Throneburg to stay on top of his busy schedule, as well as handling a large portion of the school's finances.

Roberta Nickerson was in charge of the main office, and among her other duties was the massive task of helping Ms. Wolfe with attendance.

Nancy Harper took care of all duplicating, as well as keeping supplies up to date and working on many other secretarial chores.

The administration and faculty would have been lost without these hardworking people this year.

Mrs. Isenhour finds time during her busy day for a smile.

Can I get a scholarship? Can I drop this class? Will you help me? These were just a few of the thousands of questions the guidance counselors heard this year. Libby Sigmon, Sandra Kelly and Mary Long were three of the busiest people in this school. At any hour of the day you could walk into the guidance office and see a huge number of students waiting to talk with them and then they could appear, with a slightly hurried look in their face and smile. They worked their way through the crowd and found a solution for everyone's problem.

Soothing student headaches was only one part of the job. Dealing with testing, such as the SAT, keeping cumulative records up to date and speaking with potential employers for students took up a great deal of time, but when a student had a problem, they were there.

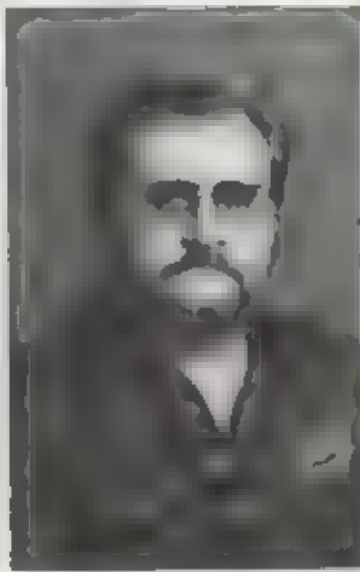

Ms. Sigmon works diligently to stay on top of paperwork involved in her job.

Ms. Kelly counsels a student with a problem, an important aspect of her job.

Mr Hamrick gets caught in the lunch room crowd

There was one place in the school building that everyone had no trouble finding — the cafeteria

In the cafeteria, you could have a nutritious, balanced plate lunch or a sandwich and salad, depending on your appetite

Maxella Walsh arrived each morning at 6:00 to get the kitchen ready for a busy day. All the ladies that worked in the kitchen had a variety of different tasks that they performed in order to get the meal ready for the students and faculty. Some of the ladies arrived at different scheduled times, depending on their job-related duties.

Determining how much food to prepare was an estimation that Ms. Walsh did based on her experience. Plate lunches were determined by the county dietitian. Ms. Walsh planned the sandwich serving line and Max's Munchies. There was always something prepared for a hearty appetite or something on the lighter side.

Bless the ladies that labored in the cafeteria. We couldn't make it through the day without them.

Mr. Patterson keeps SSHS clean by continuously checking all the hall ways for trash.

At left Becky Ross does her share of the work by sweeping the floors in the classrooms.

Once again James and Grace Patterson, along with Becky Ross, kept our school clean and safe.

Their mornings started early, with the Pattersons getting up at 4:00 a.m. to have a good hot breakfast before starting their day. After they arrived at school, unlocked the gates, and turned on the lights, a lot of cleaning was done before students started arriving. During the day James, Grace, and Becky cleaned the bathrooms, floors, emptied the trash cans, changed light bulbs, and did all the other jobs that kept things running smoothly. The day at school ended for the Pattersons and Becky at 4:30. They started for home to make ready for another day at St. Stephens.

Eager faces but worried and doubtful voices set the scene for the first day for us. Everybody seemed to tower over us. Not only that, but where in the world were we going to put all those books?

As we think back over this hectic but exciting year, most of us remembered the first two weeks.

As typical freshmen, we rushed to classes, only to be tardy after those stupid lockers just wouldn't open. We were really frustrated trying to find the right classes especially after an upper-classman had accidentally shown us the wrong room.

Aside from our typical "freshmen blues," we managed to make our first year a memorable one. Being freshmen has broadened our outlook on life and our fellow classmates.

Sophomores can take a break. Why is it always

"Yes I forgot to do my homework."

Another year has come and gone and another class is coming of age at St. Stephens. Every class has its own personality, and the sophomore class was no different. This tenth grade class was one of enthusiasm and high spirits.

This year's sophomores proved to be a big asset to St. Stephens. "We have a strong class," commented one sophomore. This is true indeed, because in the upcoming years they will be the leaders of St. Stephens. It is important that they have enthusiastic and strong people to help lead them to many more prosperous years. Soon high school will be just another memory or, for some, not so fond a memory. This class is one that will never see a closed door and will always keep looking beyond the horizon and shooting for the stars.

"No, I'm not breaking the line just moving up a little bit."

LeAnne has a look of nervousness and puzzlement. Is that what all sophomores are made of?

Friends gather in the crowded lunchroom to have a brief moment from their tiring day

And do you think I would really do something like that?" comments Jeff Powell

As we entered the doors of St. Stephens for the third year in a row, we could finally feel like we were home. No more waiting at a cold bus stop and no more waiting near the end of that lunch line. Yes, we made it, but along with these privileges and the honors of Beta Club and junior marshals, we also had to deal with harder classes, higher expectations, and the worries of that future we had yet to plan. It was tough, but we struggled and strived, and we, the class of '87', survived. Next year, as seniors, we will shine.

Ready for the beach, junior Chris Whitson says. Hey, dude? What's happening?

Lisa Weaver and Delaine Costner let us know that passing an orange under the chin isn't the easiest thing in the world to do.

SENIORS

For the first time in his life, with Angie and her friends, he was with friends.

He was the only one who was not a senior.

He was the only one who was not a senior.

With spirit and pride, the St. Stephens High School seniors accomplished a great deal, making their senior year their best year ever.

Being number one at pep rallies by supporting their "fighting Indians" in athletic competition, participating in magazines sales for the last time, and most of all, being the guests at the Junior-Senior prom were only a few of the many fond memories of the class of 1986.

But now the time had come for tears and waving good-bye as they left behind the best years of their lives.

These last two years we stayed up until 4:00 trying to finish yet another term paper. Some of us will never see or write one again; others of us will have four more years of late-night study. We were all in a frenzy to finish college applications, then came waiting for the responses. We have waited a long time, but the work was worth the effort in the end.

This group of seniors will continue to set high goals, strive to attain them and in time they will achieve their dreams and aspirations.

Shuford Mills is the leading tape division in Hickory. It is located at the end of Springs Road. The company is definitely a plus to the community.

Shells Bar-B-Q was started by Fred Shell and has been a leading restaurant for many years. Shells is always "the place" to eat.

Millers Lutheran Church celebrated its 150th anniversary this year. There are an outstanding number of generations of Lutherans attending there.

CENTURY

The Hickory Community Theatre started out as a club known as the Hickory Little Theatre. Its first public performance was May 23, 1949.

The theatre has been housed in the City Auditorium since the fall of 1949. In 1954 the club was transformed into a community-sponsored institution and was incorporated as the Hickory Little Theatre, Inc. Today, the theatre is referred to as the Hickory Community Theatre, but the Hickory Little Theatre is still the legal title.

Today, more than 400 volunteers, along with a 16 member board, an executive director, a technical director and an administrator, produce six major productions a year.

The theatre outdoes itself with each new performance. The Hickory Community Theatre is Hickory's own little Broadway, and they are a grand asset to the community that the St. Stephens High School yearbook, the Corona, would like to salute.

No person who is enthusiastic about his work has anything to fear from life — Samuel Goldwyn

Mary Seckom

I hold that man is in the right who is most closely in league with the future — Henrik Ibsen

Tammy Faulkner

The ideals which have lighted my way, and time after time have given me new courage to face life cheerfully, have been Kindness, Beauty, and Truth — Albert Einstein

Heather Livengood

Dare to be singular — let others sleep — Bronson Alcott

Vanessa McPherson

Education is not preparation for life, education is life itself. — John Dewey

Kelly Price

It is not the brains which matter most, but that which guides them — the character, the heart, generous qualities, progressive ideas — Fyodor Dostoyevski

a man's body (is) as a kind of flame, like a candle flame, forever upright, and yet flowing, and the intellect is just the light that is shed on to the things around — D.H. Lawrence

Scott Rosenschein

Well knows he who uses to consider, that our faith and knowledge thrive by exercise, as well as our limbs and complexion, — John Milton

Deldre Sigmon

Whoever he may be, and wherever he may be placed, the man who thinks becomes a light and a power. — Henry George

Toni Throneburg

Most persons are conformists, they follow, they never create, the non-conformist alone is a creative person. — Grant Singleton

From the Editors . . .

Communication problems, we all have them. It was even harder to communicate when the co-editors-in-chief were in a sixth period class while the Corona period was fourth. Despite this problem, the Corona staff thinks that this book is one of the best books that St. Stephens has had in a long time. With several new additions such as the 'mini-mag,' fold-out, and organization of layouts, this book could be considered a definite new and limited edition.

To go along with our new book this year, we also had a new company printing it, Jostens, and a new advisor, Mrs. Jane Lee. We were pleased with the services provided and new design options offered by Jostens. Our advisor, Mrs. Lee, also gave us different ideas since she was a previous yearbook advisor.

Putting together the Corona takes a lot of work from many people. The editors would like to thank their staff for all the time spent after school just to meet that DEADLINE. We would like to thank Mrs. Lee for taking on many responsibilities of the editors since we were unable to be in the fourth period class. Thanks also go to Mrs. Bille Holland for helping out in the business area of the Corona, and Mr. Bumgarner for allowing us to use his room sixth period.

Last but not least thanks goes to the student Council for all their help throughout the year and to Mr. Thronburg for giving us a Corona Day.

Mary Beckom, editor-in-chief, has to check many proofs before they can be sent off to Jostens. Kay Sigmon, editor-in-chief, gets to work on her layout, hoping to meet the deadline.

LIMITED EDITION

The 1985-86 Corona staff wanted to produce a unique book, such as St. Stephens had never seen before. Thus we derived our theme, Limited Edition. There are many things that come in limited editions — cars, art prints and books, to name a few. Limited editions are always designated as being unique by a seal or a number. Since your cover is an original work of art, each book has been individually numbered. This year's book is unique, not only on the cover but also in every page. Throughout the book, the Corona staff has tried to come up with new ideas and new ways of presenting the Corona and our school to you. For all St. Stephens students and especially her seniors, this year we place the stamp of Limited Edition upon 1985-86 forever.

Dordie,
So how have you been?
Next year you are going to college. I hope you don't argue with the teachers too much, you have a bad habit of doing it. Go to a college with a good V&V club in it, so you can get some practice. Good luck in the future and now

Do you remember for what I said about the difference between this year's picture and last (or what Donna said)?
Well, I thought about it &
I agree.

This is definitely a unique idea.

I should be doing that calculus, but I just can't find the energy
to pick up the book.
Our flowers look & wilted. Oh I like all those balloons sitting in my room. All I need now is about 20 more & Momma will stay out of my room.

Je te sais pas très bien. (I had to say something dirty).
I'm certainly glad you found me in time because if you hadn't I'm sure I would have went on that cat ride but there probably would have been only one other person. (I'm not a)
We have certainly been through some rough times & I think its only improved our relationship. You've also improved my wardrobe. I love my new clothes! It's 7:20, I guess you're still asleep. Ha, as soon as I wrote this you called. ESP,
I hope you were just being pessimistic about the green
116 because in my dream we both made it.
I've taken this annual to school every day & its been in my possession about 1 hour out of 6 or 7. I don't mind.
I just make sure I know who has it. There are a lot of things I would like to say, but if I do say them I'll tell ^{them} you because I'll probably need a hug for being so brave. I can't wait until we go to the beach. I just wish it could last longer than a week & we could get rid of a few ~~people~~ people. I'll have to admit I agree with most of your friends. You do make people mad, but there is one major difference between them and me. I Love you.

Love,

Jordie,

You make me mad, angry, frustrated and irritated but for some reason I really do love you. You're like a little child sometimes who doesn't understand completely but who tries his hardest to understand.
However, your innocence is just as hard for others to understand. Don't make the mistake of thinking that the world is so complicated sometimes. Okay!
Take Care next year and I wish you all the luck in the world. If you ever need me or want to talk you know that you can call me. Just never forget that if you don't make at least B's at college I'll come kick your butt. You're really smart Jordie, just work hard and you'll go far. Best wishes -

Love
Debra

Jordie,
I know you're
do great in college you really miss me off sometimes but I really do like you have fun this summer and stay out of trouble
Love you!
Cathy

Garden,
You're a really a nice guy. Had a great summer & be careful. Best of luck.
Love,
